Small fishing kayak - huge, attractive equipment

With only 62 lbs (28 kg) (without drive unit) the Slayer Propel 10 is one of the lightest 10' fishing kayaks with pedal engine on the market. It's kinda easy to lift it on your car's top or to slide it onto the tray of a pickup.

With Native Watercraft's unique Propel Pedal Drive System you can run forward and reverse, so the Slayer Propel 10 gives you the chance to stick with your prey and provides a major aid landing your trophy catch. Comfortable seat, solid stability, neatly arranged cockpit: the design makes it even possible for xxl anglers to stand and cast to the sides or just to relax and sip a cold beverage. The speed varies depending on current and wind, but pedaling constantly 3.5 mph (6 km/h) is easy and non-exhausting. The log rail mount systems on both sides mean easy on-and-off for rod holders from brands like Railblaza or Cannon and for mounting cameras to capture your catch of the day.
