Fox Rage Strike Point Harness Pin: Your key to successful soft lure fishing

Experience unrivalled precision and durability

With the Fox Rage Strike Point Harness Pin, a masterful leader safety pin, you can rely on innovation and quality. This harness pin has been specifically designed to optimise the positioning of your stingers and rigs, making it an essential tool for any predator angler.

Optimum protection for your lures with minimal damage

The mounting safety pin ensures a firm hold without damaging your bait. The intelligent design of the Strike Point Harness Pin enables easy handling and a longer lifespan for your soft lures, so you can use your predator systems efficiently.

More flexibility with different sizes

Customise the Harness Pin to your individual fishing needs by choosing from two sizes - Small (15mm) and Large (25mm). Each pack contains 10 pins to ensure extended and successful fishing adventures.

Efficient and durable solution for predator fishing

Using the Fox Rage Strike Point Harness Pin is crucial for protecting your soft lures. When predatory fish attack the bait, they tear the rig out of the soft lure thanks to this innovative pin, which keeps the bait protected from the sharp teeth of the fish. After successfully landing the fish, the pins can be quickly and easily reinserted into the soft bait. This keeps your bait intact for longer and you can continue fishing without interruption.

Maximise your fishing success

The Fox Rage Strike Point Harness Pin is more than just a simple safety pin; it is a symbol of innovation and efficiency in modern predator fishing. Rely on this reliable tackle to optimise your technique and achieve the best results on any body of water.
