The Stream Master rods from Illex are extremely light, in some cases under 100g light, fishing rods for twitch & jerk fishing in salmonide rivers and other running waters. Because of the low weight and the perfectly chosen lengths, these rods are easy to handle even when there's not much space and easy to navigate through snaggy and overgrown rivers and creeks. Equipped with the best components and a continuous cork handle, these rods are also visually an eyecatcher.
