This offset hook is designed for use with light worms, drop shots, Texas rigs, Carolina rigs, split-shot rigs and Leader-less drop-shot rigs.

The hook is shaped to fit perfectly in softbaits and almost completely disappear when used right. If you want a subtle presentation, you need a hook that does not interfere with the natural action of the bait. The TG1 is perfect for these situations. The offset area of the hook holds rubbers in place during casts and bait presentation, but shifts the bait aside during hooking.

The special bending curve gives the hook enough strength to land even large fish without any problems. During a field test with size #2 hooks, several fish over 7 pounds were successfully landed. The super-smooth IHPF (Ichikawa High Performance Finish) coating, of this hook ensures excellent penetration. The balance between hook mass and its shape ensures that the fish stays tuned after hooking.
