The Big Fish 120 offers all the features, stability, comfort and performance you come to expect from a high dollar kayak but in this case it has an affordable price. The kayak is designed from the ground up with a focus on stability, tracking and performance made possible by the innovative cathedral tri-hull.

The cathedral tri-hull features two outer pontoons along with a central pontoon with deep channels in between. The Big Fish seat offers all day paddling comfort with multiple sitting and standing configurations – high, low, recline and flip away, which doubles as a lean bar when standing. The deck features a sturdy reinforced standing platform, storage space along the gunwales and built in rod holders with rod tip protectors and open bow and stern storage areas for easy gear access. Another key feature is the removable Sonar Pod, designed to help you install electronics such as fish finders with ease. Other features include molded-in handles, two rear flush-mounted rod holders, adjustable foot rests, stand up assist strap, a convenient accessory outfitting track system and is rudder ready.

Whether you plan to fish lakes, river or the ocean, this boat meets the demands of all anglers from novice to expert.
