This portable lithium battery from Jarocells is stored in a water- and shockproof plastic box and was developed to easily charge your smartphone or tablet when there is no 220V socket nearby. The 20Ah version has an internal lithium battery, which is comparable to a 40Ah lead battery. The 20Ah version can also be used for electric motors up to 30lbs.

This lightweight case is popular with belly boat anglers and kayakers. Carp anglers often use the 20Ah in their bivouac to charge lighting and equipment.

This battery can be read with the Jarocells app for Android and iOS.
