NRS Cove Gloves - Full finger gloves for maximum performance

Experience ultimate protection and unrivalled performance with the NRS Cove Gloves - the perfect choice for boating and kayaking enthusiasts. These gloves combine premium sun and blister protection with outstanding grip and all-day comfort to enhance your adventure on the water.

Features:

Maximum protection is provided by the NRS Cove gloves with impressive UPF 50+ sun protection, shielding your hands from harmful UV rays. At the same time, the Amara synthetic leather on the palm protects your skin from blisters while you put the gloves on and take them off. Thanks to the silicone accents on the palm, these gloves offer a super-tacky grip in all conditions. The lightweight and slightly stretchy base material dries quickly and effectively wicks away excess moisture to maximise your comfort. The ventilation holes provide additional cooling, even on warm days. The NRS Cove gloves are made from high quality 6.3 oz. Nylon/spandex blend and offer premium durability for long-lasting performance. Single stitched seams with high tenacity thread ensure a rugged construction that will stand up to the rigours of the water. The gloves feature pairing cords on the wrists so you never lose them. The nylon/spandex material extends a little past the wrist and pairs perfectly with long sleeves for ultimate sun protection.
