The first thing that strikes you about the new lipless Dexter Vib 120 crankbait is its size. This is a big lure. In the water a pronounced rolling action coupled with the reflective flanks trigger aggressive takes from big pike, perch, zander and catfish. Extremely realistic with 3D eyes, clear scale markings and a pronounced pectoral fin.

This noise-emitting lure is available in both floating and sinking version letting you cover all the water layers and work round difficult swims such as the edge of weedbeds where big predators stay posted. The floating version allows you to work round roots and branches. This is a very buoyant lure and pops back up to the surface quickly making it easy to control round semi-submerged snags.

The slow sinking version allows you to scrape the bottom even on fast retrieves. The swimming action helps keep the hooks clear of underwater snags where big fish often lie waiting.
