Application:

The ZipBaits Orbit 110 Lures have been developed by ZipBaits specially for black bass but in Europe they can be used for almost any kind of predatory fish. Due to its shape and size the Orbit 110 is especially attractive for pikes.

Build:

Due to the usage of wolfram (=tungsten) in the frame of the „MZ-19“ alloy manufactured by ZipBaits, these lures are significantly heavier than lures of the same size that have been weighted with plumb. With Mag-Drive technology, which is known in Japan as the „Super High Balanced System“, the lures can be casted at an extremely high distance and behave in a way that the fish gets strongly attracted to them. The MZ-19 (wolfram/tungsten) is not placed in the body as a freely moving ball like it is the case with many other lures, but moves along a rail. It stays in the rear part of the hardbait during the cast, which allows casting at much greater distances. The recommended fishing line strength for this lure: 10 – 16 lb.
