At first glance, the trick ZipBaits Shad 70SP convinces by its new color designs, which appear in different colors depending on the angle.

The inside of the ZipBaits Trick Shad 70 SP also surprises with a sophisticated and improved ZipBaits Mag-Drive system which utilizes new materials.

Through the combination of tungsten, steel, titanium and neodymium magnets, ZipBaits managed to design the Trick Shad 70 SP in a way that the magnet in the Mag-Drive system gets in the back of the lure, as before, when casted. During the slow reeling and twitching it slides into the front part of the lure and stays there.

But in contrast to previous ZipBaits Mag-Drive lures, the ZipBaits Trick Shad 70 SP features a weight shift during a more violent jerking and casting, whereby the action of the lure develops a whole new dynamics under water: The ZipBaits Trick Shad 70 SP presents itself with its downward sloping tail as a suffering fish to attract predators. The recommended fishing line strength is 6-12 lb.
