The Eta spoon is especially created for fishing large pikes and salmonids and impresses with an extreme casting distance and a distinct bait play. As soon as you stop retrieving, the Eta stops immediately and begins to sink with strong dithers. The resulting flash predators can't resist.

Like all other spoons from Trout Bait, the Eta is made of a high-quality brass alloy, which educes a unique, extremely catchy sound under water from it and makes it resistant to corrosion, so it's even ideal for fishing for sea trouts in saltwater. In addition, brass can't rust, which ensures an extremely long life of the spoon. The hooks are made of extremely robust steel and are chemically sharpened.
