This intermediate 107 size Bonnie lure was developed originally for Brazilian anglers after peacock bass and aimara. Now available in Europe. This bait has all the classic Bonnie features. A great stickbait for prospecting open water targeting sea bass, black bass, perch, pike, asp etc. Designed to be tough enough to cope with light tropical fishing for tarpon and trevally, this is a great lure for the travelling angler. Fitted with tungsten beads for excellent casting performance and vibration attraction. The inside of the bait has four separate chambers that help to get the balance of the bait perfect and as close as possible to traditional wooden lures. This balance helps your Bonnie lure sit perfectly on the surface and stay stable even in trough conditions.
