

A-Tec Spinning rod Crazee Bass Game

The remake of A-Tec's beloved Crazee Bass spinning rods, now under the name Crazee Bass Game, has it all. Fine balanced casting weights, incredibly low dead weight and high quality materials and elements for a price that is impressive.

The 98% carbon content makes the rods extremely light and responsive, while top components such as the Fuji O-guides and Fuji reel seat provide fatigue-free fishing and high quality. The durable EVA Split Grip lets you detect every movement and react immediately.

In combination with the metal elements results in a visually beautiful rod series, which can compete in terms of weight, response and speed with much more expensive rods.
