Discover the Illex Water Monitor 85 - your versatile sinking stickbait!

The Illex Water Monitor 85 is a high-quality sinking pencilbait that will delight any angler with its outstanding features. With its 10 stabilising chambers inside and its robust ABS construction, this Illex lure is a reliable companion for fishing trips in a wide variety of waters.

The Water Monitor 85 is particularly suitable for situations in which the fish do not quite rise to the surface. Its versatility is demonstrated by the fact that it performs an attractive S-curve both in 'walk the dog' style and when simply retrieving. As it sinks, it automatically produces seductive movements, causing its flanks to flash and attract the attention of predators. It is therefore advisable to keep an eye on the line at all times so as not to miss any bites.

This Illex hardbait is an indispensable tool for anglers looking for a reliable and effective lure that delivers successful catches all year round.

Features:

- High quality sinking stickbait
- Made from robust ABS material
- With 10 stabilising chambers inside
